1.0 BACKGROUND

Kenya Marine and Fisheries Research Institute (KMFRI) is a State Corporation established in 1979 by the Science and Technology Act, Cap 250 of the Laws of Kenya, now repealed by the Science, Technology and Innovation Act No. 28 of 2013: The STI ACT recognized KMFRI as a national research institution under section 56, fourth schedule, KMFRI's mandate is to undertake research in marine and freshwater fisheries, aquaculture, environmental and ecological studies, and in marine research including chemical and physical oceanography, in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable fisheries resources and development of the Blue Economy.

1.1 Functions of The Institute

The functions of KMFRI as stipulated under section 14 of the Science and Technology Act Cap 250 now repealed and affirmed under section 53 of the STI ACT 2013 is to:

- i) Carry out research in
  - a. Marine and freshwater fisheries,
  - b. Aquatic Biology including environmental and ecological studies
  - c. Marine research including chemical and physical oceanography
- ii) Co-operate with other organizations and institutions of higher learning in training programmes and on matters of relevant research;
- iii) Liaise with other research bodies within and outside Kenya carrying out similar research;
- iv) Disseminate research findings;
- v) Co-operate with the responsible Ministry, the Council and the relevant Research Committee, in matters pertaining to research policies and priorities;
- vi) to do all such things as appear to be necessary, desirable or expedient to carry out its functions.

To address emerging trends in the blue economy, other Government development agenda, and emerging issues, KMFRI will carry out research, disseminate research findings, and build capacity in the blue economy or other related areas.

1.2 Organization of The Institute

The Institute is organized into two (2) tiers which comprise governance (Board of Management) and management.

a) Governance Structure

This comprise the Board as established under section 15 (1) of the Science and Technology Act and as revised in 2009 and as amended under section 53 of the Science, Technology and Innovation (STI) Act No.28 of 2013. The Board is the supreme decision-making organ of the Institute.

b) Management Structure

The management is responsible for the day to day operations of the Institute. The Director General provides stewardship to the management team. In order to execute its mandate effectively the Institute is structured from the office of the Director into various Directorates, Departments, Divisions and Sections as shown in Figure 1.

1.3 Grading Structure

The Institute's grading structure ranges from KMFRI 1 for Director General which the highest grade to KMFRI 12 for Office Assistant which is the lowest grade in the Institute's Career Guidelines.

Entry into the Institute grading structure will be determined by requisite basic academic and professional qualifications, and experience for appointment to the various grades/levels as indicated in the table overleaf.

2.0 ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The Organizational Structure has been developed with an aim to achieve the following;

- i) To maximize the efficiency and success of the Institute;
- ii) Facilitate working relationships with various sections of the Institute; and
- iii) Retain order and command whilst promoting flexibility and creativity.

2.1 Kenya Marine and Research Institute Structure

The Management of the Institute is vested in the Board of Directors who provide policy and oversight while the day to day operations are delegated to the Director General. The Institute is organized into eight (8) Directorates and one department as indicated below;

2.1.1 Directorates

- i) Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy Research
- ii) Freshwater Systems Research
- iii) Aquaculture Research
- iv) Socioeconomics Research
- v) Corporate Services;
- vi) Strategy, Partnerships, and Resource Mobilization Directorate;
- vii) Corporation Secretary and Directorate of Legal Services; and
- viii) Internal Audit.

2.1.2 DEPARTMENTS

- i) Supply Chain Management.

The Internal Auditor reports functionally to the Board and administratively to the Director while the Corporation Secretary reports functionally to the Director and administratively to the Board.

KMFRI Organization Structure is as indicated in Figure: 1 below:

3.0 FUNCTIONAL STAFFING OF THE KENYA MARINE AND FISHERIES RESEARCH INSTITUTE

1.0 Office of Director General

A. Rationale

The office of the Director General is established pursuant to section 14 of the Science and Technology Act Cap 250 and as explained under section 53 of the Science, Technology and Innovations Act No. 28 of 2013. The office of the Director General is the topmost management position in the organization. The holder is the Chief Executive Officer of the institute. The office is responsible for day to day operations of the Institute, and ensuring achievement of the mandate, objectives and strategies of the institute, formulation of policies, prudent management of resources including financial and human resources, and implementation of the Board of Management decisions and enhancing the corporate image of the institute.

B. Functions

The office of the Chief Executive Officer is responsible for the following functions:

- i. Advising the Board of Management on all policies and strategies related to Marine and Fisheries research.
- ii. Responsible for the day to day operations of the institute.
- iii. Provide leadership to senior management and staff.
- iv. Prepare the annual budgets and establish proper internal controls.
- v. Responsible for the execution and communication of the Boards strategies, decision and policies.
- vi. Develop and recommend to the Board of Management the annual business plans for the organization.
- vii. Ensure that the organization has an effective management structure including succession plans.
- viii. Ensure that all Board papers are accurately written, are relevant and are availed to the Board members in good time.
- ix. Serve as the link between the Board of Management and the Management.
- x. Be responsible for the achievement of the objectives of the organization.
- xi. Put in place effective administrative structures, processes and systems.
- xii. Provide regular, thorough and prompt communication to the Board of Management on key technical financial and administrative matters.
- xiii. Responsible for stakeholder management and the enhancement of the corporate image of the organization.

- xiv. Fostering a corporate culture that promotes ethical practices and good corporate citizenship.
- xv. Ensuring corporate compliance with all statutory, legal social regulatory requirements in the execution of the institute mandate
- xvi. Serve as the Secretary to the Board of Management.
- xvii. The principal spokesperson of the organization.

C. Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the Office of the Director General will be staffed as follows:

Table 1: Staff Establishment for the Office of the Director-General.

S / No.	Designation	KMFRI Grade	Staffing Level	Remarks
1.	Director General	1	1
2.	Personal Assistant*	-	-

5.	Principal Office Assistant	10	2
6.	Principal Driver	9	5
	Total		9

**The Personal Assistant shall be deployed from the existing pool of Research Scientists in the Institute, but not below KMFRI grade 5.*

2.0 Directorate of Oceans & Coastal Systems and Blue Economy Research

A. Rationale

The Directorate of Oceans & Coastal Systems and Blue Economy (OCS & BE) Research is established pursuant to section 14 of the Science and Technology Act Cap 250 and the repeals and transitional provisions in section 47 of the Science Technology and Innovation Act (STI) No. 28 of 2013. The Directorate undertakes fisheries, environmental, ecological, chemical and physical oceanographic research in the marine and coastal environment in order to generate knowledge for the sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

B. Functions

The Directorate is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Advising the management on policies and strategies related to oceans and coastal systems research and development and the Blue Economy;
- ii. Lead in the development and reviews of internal policies related to oceans and coastal research and the Blue Economy;
- iii. Advising the management on research bodies, institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya on issues of collaboration and partnership;

- iv. Advising the management on linkages with other research bodies and institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya to enhance technology and knowledge transfer;
- v. Participates in the development of national strategies, guidelines and regulations for marine resources conservation and management and the Blue Economy;
- vi. Developing guidelines and regulations for planning and implementation of research in OCS&BE;
- vii. Guiding research planning, implementation and monitoring under: Marine and Coastal Fisheries and Oceanography and Hydrography.
- viii. Developing linkages with the other directorates in the development and implementation of multi-disciplinary research in Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy.
- ix. Conducting outreach services for research findings in Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy through various channels to the public, institutions of higher learning and other research institutions locally and internationally to increase KMFRI's visibility.
- x. Developing policies that guide the process of publication of scientific manuscripts on Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy.
- xi. Mobilizing resources for research and development in Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy.

C. Staffing

To carry out the above mandate, the Director's office will be staffed as follows.

Table 1: Staff Establishment for the Office of the Director, Oceans and Coastal Systems and Blue Economy Research

S / No.	Designation	KMFRI Grade	Staffing Level	Remarks
1.	Director, Oceans and Coastal Systems and Blue Economy Research	2	1

4.	Principal Assistant Office Administrator	7	1
5.	Assistant Office Administrator / Senior	9 / 8
6.	Principal Office Assistant	10	1
	Total		4

**The Personal Assistant shall be deployed from the existing pool of Research Scientists in the Institute, but not below KMFRI grade 5.*

The Directorate of OCS consists of the following five (5) Departments:

- i. Marine and Coastal Fisheries
- ii. Oceanography and Hydrography
- iii. Research Centres
- iv. Laboratory Services
- v. Maritime Services

The rationale, functions and staffing for the five (5) OCS Departments are as indicated below:

1. Marine and Coastal Fisheries Research

Marine and Coastal Fisheries Research department provides competent scientific information and data on the sustainable management of marine and coastal fishery resources. The Department is also responsible for inventorying and assessment of fish stocks: their spatial and temporal abundance and distribution, fish ecology and biology, and population dynamics.

2. Oceanography and Hydrography

The Oceanography and Hydrography Research department conducts research on sustainable use and protection of aquatic resources in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

3. Research Centres

Research centers co-ordinate research implementation to meet the needs of OCS&BE research. This includes the coordination of technical functions including laboratory, maritime and GIS & remote sensing services.

4. Laboratory Services

The Department provides technical services in field and laboratory for OCS&BE research directorates' programmes.

5. Maritime Services

The Department provides maritime technical services in field for OCS&BE research programmes.

1. Marine and Coastal Fisheries Research

a. Rationale

The Department arises from the mandate of the directorate of Oceans and Coastal Systems and Blue Economy Research to undertake marine and coastal fisheries research in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

b. Functions

The Department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Mobilizing funds for marine and coastal fisheries research

- ii. Undertaking research activities in Marine & Coastal Fisheries and the Blue Economy in order to generate data to inform the investing in and development of blue economy
- iii. Developing linkages in multidisciplinary research in Marine and Coastal Fisheries.
- iv. Disseminating of marine & coastal fisheries and the Blue Economy research findings in local, national and international conferences to create awareness for sustainable utilization of marine resources.
- v. Positioning KMFRI as a regional marine & coastal fisheries and Blue Economy research hub.
- vi. Capacity building for the institute's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of marine and coastal fisheries and the Blue Economy.

c. Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the Department will be staffed as follows.

2. Oceanography and Hydrography

a) Rationale

The Department arises from the mandate of the Directorate to undertake environmental, ecological, chemical and physical oceanographic research in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

b) Functions.

The Department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Mobilizing funds for oceanography and hydrography research;
- ii. Undertaking research activities in oceanography and hydrography in order to generate knowledge on processes that modify water movement, water & seabed resources, climate, weather and related economic activities;
- iii. Developing linkages for multidisciplinary research in oceanography and hydrography;
- iv. Disseminating of oceanography and hydrography research findings in local, national and international conferences to create awareness for sustainable utilization of marine resources.
- v. Positioning KMFRI as a regional oceanography and hydrography research hub.
- vi. Capacity building for the institute's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of oceanography and hydrology.

3. Research Centers

a) Rationale

The Oceans and Coastal Systems and Blue Economy research centers are established to facilitate research and any other related activities in the coastal and marine environment. There are two research centers namely Mombasa Research Center, the Lamu Research Center and Gazi Research Center. The two centers and sub-centre will also provide research facilities for the other directorates when need arises.

b) Functions

The key functions of the Centers are:

- i. Advising the management on policies, strategies and programmes for enhancing the capacity to support research function including emerging technologies;
- ii. Evaluate and make inventory of research needs in liaison with respective Directorates (i.e Coastal and Ocean Systems& BE, Freshwater systems, Aquaculture and socio economics)
- iii. Provide technical and administrative support services for research activities;

- iv. Collaborative sharing of technical services with other Research Centers and other institutions
- v. Enhancing capacity in expertise areas within the center;
- vi. Infrastructure development in the technical services (laboratory, maritime and GIS equipment);
- vii. Promoting the center as a research facility hub.
- viii. Mobilizing resources to finance research activities.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above functions, centers are staffed as follows.

2. Laboratory Services

a) Rationale

The department arises from the mandate of the Directorate of Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy to undertake to undertake research in marine and coastal fisheries, environmental and ecological studies, and marine research including chemical and physical oceanography in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable development of the Blue Economy.

b) Functions

The key functions of the Laboratory Services Department are:

- i. Providing laboratory technical services for Oceans and Coastal Systems and the Blue Economy research.
- ii. Ensuring the availability and functionality of equipment in order to generate reliable data for OCS&BE and Aquaculture Directorates
- iii. Formulating and implementing laboratory quality control procedures
- iv. Formulating and implementing good laboratory practices;
- v. Implementing capacity building for the institute's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of laboratory services.
- vi. Ensuring safe laboratory waste disposal and risk assessment in accordance with existing national regulations.
- vii. Providing technical advice to management on bio-security matters.

- viii. Ensuring proper implementation of laboratory operating standards (ISO 17025) in order to generate accurate and reliable data.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above functions, the Laboratory Services Department is staffed as follows.

4. Maritime Services

a) Rationale

The department arises from the mandate of the directorate to undertake research in marine and coastal fisheries, environmental and ecological studies, and marine research including chemical and physical oceanography in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable development of the Blue Economy. The department will provide maritime services to all the directorates at Mombasa Center.

b) Functions

The key functions of the Maritime Services Department are:

- i. Implementing vessel based research activities in consultation with research scientists on-board.
- ii. Providing technical advice on maritime affairs to research scientists.
- iii. Ensuring safe pilotage, navigation and manning of the institute's research vessels;
- iv. Ensuring compliance with the standards, rules, regulations, procedures and practices pertaining to maritime;
- v. Ensuring prevention of marine pollution and preservation of marine environment from oil emptying and garbage disposal by KMFRI vessels into navigable water bodies;
- vi. Promoting and developing the design of environmentally friendly fishing gears;
- vii. Maintaining, repairing and servicing all the institute's research vessels
- viii. Establishing, maintaining and rendering an efficient and effective research service in the institute.
- ix. Deployment and retrieval of Scientific Gear and Equipment;
- x. Underwater photography

d) Staffing

To effectively carry out the above functions, the Department of Maritime Services will be staffed as follows.

3.0 Directorate of Freshwater Systems Research

A. Rationale

The Directorate of Freshwater Systems research is established pursuant to section 14 of the Science and Technology Act Cap 250 and the repeals and transitional provisions in section 47 of the Science Technology and Innovation Act (STI) No. 28 of 2013. The directorate carries out research in freshwater systems in Kenya’s lakes, rivers, and wetlands to generate knowledge for the sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

B. Functions

The directorate is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Advising the management on policies and strategies related to freshwater systems research and development
- ii. Spearheading the development and reviews of policies, strategies and programs for freshwater systems research
- iii. Advising the management on research bodies, institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya on issues of collaboration and partnership in freshwater systems research
- iv. Advising the management on linkages with other research bodies and institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya to enhance technology and knowledge transfer in freshwater systems research
- v. Developing national strategies, guidelines and regulations for freshwater systems resources conservation and management in liaison with relevant agencies.
- vi. Developing guidelines and regulations for research planning and implementation in freshwater systems research
- vii. Conducting research planning, implementation and monitoring under freshwater fisheries research and limnology research.
- viii. Providing linkages with the other directorates in the development and implementation of multi-disciplinary research.
- ix. Disseminating research findings and promotes the outreach of freshwater systems programmes through various channels to the public, institutions of higher learning and other research institutions locally and internationally to increase KMFRI’s visibility.
- x. Developing and implementation of policies to guide approval of scientific manuscripts for publication in freshwater systems research.
- xi. Mobilizing resources for research and development in freshwater systems directorate.

C. Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the Freshwater Systems Research Directorate will be staffed as follows.

Table 1: Staff Establishment for the Office of the Director, Freshwater Systems Research

S / No.	Designation	KMFRI Grade	Staffing Level	Remarks

1.	Director, Freshwater Systems Research	2	1
2.	Personal Assistant*	-	-
3.	Senior Chief Research Scientist Emeritus	2	1
4.	Principal Assistant Office Administrator	7	1
5.	Assistant Office Administrator / Senior	9 / 8
6.	Principal Office Assistant	10	1
	Subtotal		4

**The Personal Assistant shall be deployed from the existing pool of Research Scientists in the Institute, but not below level KMFRI grade 5.*

The Directorate of Freshwater Systems consists of the following five (5) Departments

1. Freshwater Fisheries Research Department

The freshwater fisheries department provides competent scientific information and data on the sustainable management of freshwater fishery resources through ecosystem approach. The Department is responsible for inventorying and assessment of fish stocks: their spatial and temporal abundance and distribution, fish ecology, biology, and population dynamics. The department also conduct post-harvest and value addition fisheries research.

2. Limnology Research Department

This Department cover all inland water systems by investigating biodiversity in the freshwater systems and use landscape limnology in the conservation of aquatic biodiversity.

3. Research Centres

The department co-ordinates research implementation to meet the needs of freshwater systems. It also provides the technical services to freshwater systems which include laboratory and maritime services.

4. Laboratory Services

The Department provides technical services in field and laboratory for freshwater systems research programmes.

5. Maritime Services

The Department provides maritime technical services in field for freshwater systems research programmes.

The rationale, functions and staffing for the five (5) freshwater systems Departments are as indicated below

1. Freshwater Fisheries

a) Rationale

The Department arises from the mandate of Freshwater Systems Research Directorate to undertake research in freshwater fisheries in order to provide scientific data and information for the sustainable use and management of the freshwater fisheries resources to support economic development and food security.

b) Functions

The Department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Mobilizing funds for freshwater fisheries research
- ii. Undertaking research activities in freshwater Fisheries in to generate data to inform the management
- iii. Developing linkages in multidisciplinary research in freshwater fisheries.
- iv. Disseminating of fisheries research findings in local, national, and international conferences to create awareness and forge research linkages for sustainable utilization of freshwater resources.
- v. Positioning KMFRI as a regional freshwater fisheries research hub in the national, regional, and international meetings.
- vi. Developing the capacity of the institute’s stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of freshwater fisheries.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the department will be staffed as follows.

2. Limnology Research Department

a) Rationale

The Limnology Research Department exists to provide leadership in development and implementation of institute's research mandate in regard to limnology research in inland centres/stations by initiating, planning and implementing research activities under limnology to promote sustainable use and management of fisheries resources to support economic development and food security. This is achieved through observation, analyzing environmental data and identifying demand driven research areas to generate solutions that lead to sustainable environmental management.

b) Functions

The department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Mobilizing funds for freshwater limnology research
- ii. Undertaking research activities in freshwater limnology in to generate data to inform the management.
- iii. Developing linkages in multidisciplinary research in freshwater limnology research.
- iv. Disseminating of freshwater limnology research findings in local, national and international conferences to create awareness and forge research linkages for sustainable utilization of freshwater resources.
- v. Positioning KMFRI as a regional freshwater limnology research hub in the national, regional and international meetings
- vi. Developing the capacity of the institute's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of freshwater limnology research.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the department will be staffed as follows.

3. Research Centres

a) Rationale

The Freshwater Systems Research Centres are established to facilitate research and any other related activities in freshwater and wetland environments. There are two (2) research centers namely: Kisumu and Naivasha, and two (2) research stations namely: Baringo and Turkana under the Freshwater Systems Research directorate. Baringo station will also cater for aquaculture directorate when there is need.

b) Functions

The key functions of the research centres are:

- i. Advising management on policies, strategies and programs for enhancing the capacity to support research function; including emerging technologies.
- ii. Providing technical and administrative support services for research activities.
- iii. Evaluating and making inventory of research needs in liaison with respective Directors (i.e. Freshwater fisheries and Limnology research).

- iv. Collaborative sharing of technical services with other Research Centers and other institutions
- v. Ensuring Security of centers facilities and resources.
- vi. Coordinating capacity building in critical areas in maritime and laboratory.
- vii. Infrastructure development in the technical services (laboratory and maritime).
- viii. Outreaching to stakeholders on the facilities that are available at the centre.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above functions, Centers will be staffed as follows:

4. Laboratory Services

a) Rationale

The department arises from the mandate of the freshwater systems directorate to undertake research in freshwater fisheries, limnology, environmental and post-harvest technology to provide scientific data and information for sustainable development and management of the freshwater fisheries. The laboratory services will serve all the freshwater systems and aquaculture directorate.

b) Functions

The key functions of the laboratory Services Department are:

- (i) Providing laboratory technical services in the field and laboratories for freshwater systems Directorate.
- (ii) Ensuring the availability and functionality of equipment in order to generate reliable data for freshwater Directorate
- (iii) Formulating and implementing laboratory quality control procedures
- (iv) Formulating and implementing good laboratory practices

- (v) Capacity building for the freshwater systems directorate's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of freshwater Directorate research.
- (vi) Ensuring safe laboratory waste disposal and risk assessment in accordance with existing national regulations.
- (vii) Providing technical advice to management on bio-security matters.
- (viii) Ensuring proper implementation of laboratory operating standards (ISO 17025) in order to generate accurate and reliable data.

c) Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the Department will be staffed as follows.

5. Maritime Services

a) Rationale

The department arises from the mandate of freshwater systems directorate to undertake research in freshwater fisheries and limnology research to provide scientific data and information for sustainable development and management of the freshwater fisheries. The department will jointly be serving the freshwater systems directorate at the research centers.

b) Functions

The key functions of the Maritime Services Department are:

- (i) Implementing vessel-based research activities in consultation with research scientist on-board.
- (ii) Participating in research activities planning by providing expert advice on maritime affairs to research scientists.
- (iii) Ensuring safe pilotage, navigation and manning of the directorate's research vessels.
- (iv) Ensure the standards, rules, regulations, procedures and practices pertaining to maritime are adhered to and closely followed in execution of duties
- (v) Ensuring prevention of pollution and preservation of freshwater systems' environment from oil emptying and garbage disposal by the directorate vessels into navigable water bodies;
- (vi) Promoting and developing the design of environmentally friendly fishing gears;
- (vii) Maintaining, repairing and servicing all the directorate's research vessels
- (viii) Establishing, maintaining and rendering an efficient and effective research service in the freshwater systems directorate.

4.0 Directorate of Aquaculture Research

A. Rationale

The Directorate of Aquaculture Research is established pursuant to section 14 of the Science and Technology Act Cap 250 and the repeals and transitional provisions in section 47 of the Science Technology and Innovation Act (STI) No. 28 of 2013. The directorate carries out research in freshwater and marine aquaculture within six thematic areas: (1) innovative culture production systems and technologies including hatcheries, biofloc technologies, ponds, cages, aquaponics, recirculating aquaculture systems, in-pond raceways, Integrated Multi Trophic Aquaculture (IMTA) systems; (2) fish seed production through novel breeding and genetic techniques for cultured species and aquatic plants e.g. seaweeds; (3) fish feed production and nutrition; (4) fish disease control and biosecurity; (5) fish marketing, post-harvest preservation and value addition technologies; and (6) cross-cutting socio-economic issues in aquaculture including aquaculture economics, environmental impact assessment, gender mainstreaming and social inclusion.

B. Functions

The Directorate of Aquaculture is responsible for the following key functions:-

- i. Advising management on all policies and strategies related to aquaculture research and development.
- ii. Developing, implementing and reviewing national research policies in aquaculture and Blue Economy in consultation with stakeholders.
- iii. Advising the Board on research bodies, institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya on issues of collaboration and partnership in aquaculture research.
- iv. Advising the Board on linkages with other research bodies and institutions of higher learning, county governments, public and private agencies within and outside Kenya to enhance aquaculture technology and knowledge transfer.
- v. Developing national aquaculture development strategies, guidelines and regulations.
- vi. Developing aquaculture research planning and implementation guidelines and regulations.
- vii. Carrying out capacity building for sustainable aquaculture development.
- viii. Disseminating research findings and promote outreach of aquaculture programmes through various channels to increase KMFRI's visibility.
- ix. Developing policies guiding approval of aquaculture scientific manuscripts for publication.
- x. Mobilizing resources for aquaculture research and development.
- xi. Developing research innovations to support aquaculture development.
- xii. Developing local, national, regional and international partnerships to support aquaculture development.
- xiii. Developing user friendly manuals and guidelines to support aquaculture development in Kenya.
- xiv. Developing scientific publications to show the potential for aquaculture to attract investments in aquaculture.
- xv. Generating and disseminating technologies, innovations and management practices (TIMPS) for aquaculture value chain.
- xvi. Developing fish health diagnostic kits, vaccines and quarantine facilities for control of emerging fish diseases.

- xvii. Plan and carry out research, implementation of research findings and monitoring in Freshwater aquaculture and Mariculture.

C. Staffing

To carry out the above mandate the Directorate will be staffed as follows: -

Table 1: Staff establishment for the office of the Director, Aquaculture Research

**The Personal Assistant shall be deployed from the existing pool of Research Scientists in the Institute, but not below KMFRI grade 5.*

The Directorate of aquaculture consists of the following four (4) Departments:

- i. Freshwater Aquaculture Research Department
- ii. Mariculture Department
- iii. Research Centres
- iv. Aquaculture Laboratories

1. Department of Freshwater Aquaculture

a) Rationale

Arising from the mandate of the Directorate of Aquaculture Research, the department of freshwater aquaculture is responsible for undertaking research in culture of aquatic organisms in freshwater environments in order to generate knowledge for the sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

b) Functions

The Department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Carrying out multidisciplinary, multi-institutional and multi-stakeholder research in freshwater aquaculture.
- ii. Developing and implementing research activities within the department through preparation of annual work plans, budgets policies and strategies.

- iii. Undertaking innovations in freshwater aquaculture and blue economy to support freshwater aquaculture development.
- iv. Mobilizing research funds through research proposals and grants to address research needs in freshwater aquaculture.
- v. Undertaking freshwater aquaculture suitability assessments to support investments in the industry.
- vi. Developing breeding protocols for the freshwater fish species to support freshwater aquaculture business and ornamental fish trade.
- vii. Developing internal capacity in EIA, freshwater aquaculture engineering and GIS to support investments in the blue economy.
- viii. Generating research findings to guide policy, legal and regulatory frameworks for sustainable freshwater aquaculture development.
- ix. Creating awareness and establishing freshwater aquaculture research linkages through participation in national, regional and international fora to guide freshwater aquaculture research policy.
- x. Creating Aquatic Genetic Resources Research Centre for gene banking of commercially important indigenous species in freshwater aquaculture.
- xi. Positioning KMFRI as a center of excellence in the region on freshwater aquaculture research.
- xii. Capacity building for stakeholders, students on attachment and internship from universities and technical colleges in liaison with the Directorate of Socioeconomics.
- xiii. Creating and maintaining freshwater aquaculture databases by continuously monitoring and updating long-term data for mariculture in liaison with the Institute's Information Science function.
- xiv. Providing mentorship to scientists to enhance capacity for exploitation of the freshwater aquaculture potential.
- xv. Diagnosing disease infections in hatchery and culture systems for increased fish production and good environmental stewardship.
- xvi. Innovatively developing novel feeds to support the aquaculture industry.
- xvii. Designing cost effective freshwater aquaculture systems for to support investment in the industry.

2. Mariculture Research Department

a) Rationale

Arising from the mandate of the Directorate of Aquaculture Research, the Mariculture Research Department is responsible for undertaking research in culturing aquatic organisms in the marine environment in order to generate knowledge for the sustainable management and development of the Blue Economy resources for enhanced socio-economic benefits to Kenyans.

b) Functions

The department is responsible for the following key functions:

- i. Carrying out multidisciplinary, multi-institutional and multi-stakeholder research in mariculture
- ii. Developing and implementing research activities within the department through preparation of annual work plans, budgets policies and strategies
- iii. Undertaking innovations in the mariculture and blue economy to support mariculture development

- iv. Mobilizing research funds through research proposals and grants to address research needs in mariculture.
- v. Undertaking mariculture suitability assessments to support investments in the industry
- vi. Developing breeding protocols for the over 220 marine fish species to support mariculture business and ornamental fish trade
- vii. Developing internal capacity in EIA, mariculture engineering and GIS to support investments in the blue economy
- viii. Generating research findings to guide policy, legal and regulatory frameworks for sustainable mariculture development
- ix. Creating awareness and establishing mariculture research linkages through participation in national, regional and international fora to guide mariculture research policy.
- x. Creating Aquatic Genetic Resources Research Centre for gene banking of commercially important indigenous species in mariculture
- xi. Positioning KMFRI as a center of excellence in the region on coastal and marine aquaculture research.
- xii. Capacity building for stakeholders, students on attachment and internship from universities and technical colleges in liaison with the Directorate of Socioeconomics
- xiii. Creating and maintaining mariculture databases by continuously monitoring and updating long-term data for mariculture in liaison with the Institute's Information Science function.

* The Chief Research Scientist at Shimoni will be the Center Director.

3. Research Centers

a) Rationale

The aquaculture research centers are established to facilitate and provide conducive environment for conducting research in freshwater and marine water aquaculture. The aquaculture directorate has four (4) Research Centers namely: Shimoni, Sagana, Kegati and Sang'oro. There are also 2 sub-centres namely Taita-Taveta and Mutonga in Tharaka Nithi. The Nairobi liaison office is anchored under the Sagana Center.

Shimoni Center, the home of the National Mariculture Research and Training (NAMARET) Centre, specializes in mariculture research and capacity building. The centre hosts the first marine hatchery in the Western Indian Ocean (WIO) region thus providing a unique opportunity in ensuring KMFRI becomes a centre of excellence in mariculture.

Sagana, Kegati and Sang'oro Centres and the two sub-centres specialize in freshwater aquaculture research. The centres undertake aquaculture related trainings in liaison with the directorate for socioeconomics.

b) Functions

The key functions of the research centers are to:

- i. Co-ordinating research activities approved by headquarter in liaison with Directors (Coastal and Ocean Systems & BE, Freshwater systems, Aquaculture)
- ii. Facilitating the implementation of research activities at the center through the provision of GIS & remote sensing, laboratory and maritime technical services.
- iii. Advising management on policies, strategies and programmes for enhancing capacity in research support services in conducting quality research, GIS and remote sensing, laboratory and maritime
- iv. Developing linkages with other institutions to develop policies, strategies and programmes for enhancing capacity in research support services.
- v. Development and implementation of strategies for securing facilities for the research centers
- vi. Coordinating capacity building in core areas and expertise in research, GIS and remote sensing, maritime and laboratory management and operations to enhance research delivery and technology adoption.
- vii. Mobilizing resources for acquiring and maintaining infrastructure to enhance quality of research.
- viii. Creating linkages, awareness to stakeholders through participation in national, regional and international fora.
- ix. Developing demo facilities in the centres to showcase advancements in aquaculture and new innovations to interest investors

- x. Providing on-farm and on-station capacity development for aquaculture investors to disseminate aquaculture innovations
- xi. Developing simple protocols and manuals to disseminate aquaculture research innovations
- xii. Providing mentorship to aquaculture investors, students on attachments and internship for sustainability in mariculture development
- xiii. Validating developed aquaculture research innovations through controlled on station experiments before dissemination of innovations
- xiv. Developing policy briefs of validated innovations to enhance aquaculture research dissemination

c) Staffing

To carry out the above functions the centers will be staffed as follows.

4. Aquaculture Research Laboratories

a) Rationale

The department arises from the mandate of the Directorate of Aquaculture to undertake to undertake research in freshwater and mariculture in order to provide scientific data and information for sustainable development of Aquaculture.

b) Functions

The key functions of the Laboratory Services Department are:

- i. Providing laboratory technical services for Aquaculture research.
- ii. Ensuring the availability and functionality of equipment in order to generate reliable data for Aquaculture Directorate
- iii. Formulating and implementing laboratory quality control procedures
- iv. Formulating and implementing good laboratory practices;
- v. Implementing capacity building for the institute's stakeholders (communities, students on attachment and internship) in the areas of laboratory services.

- vi. Ensuring safe laboratory waste disposal and risk assessment in accordance with existing national regulations.
- vii. Providing technical advice to management on bio-security matters.
